Purity in everyday life ...

The purity of soul that Our Lord asks of His followers is far from being simply a matter of appearances. We are not expected to 'wash' our hands and plates and leave our heart unclean. Purity of soul has to be really appreciated and joyfully sought after, basing our effort always on the grace of God. This interior cleanness is the consequence of a life-long, cheerful and unremitting struggle. The soul, if it is not to consent to attitudes and thoughts which separate it from God and from others, needs to have a great love for frequent and worthy reception of the Sacrament of Penance, whereby God purifies and fills it with His grace and the heart is 'washed' clean.

Interior purity brings with it a strengthening and growth of love, along with man's elevation to the dignity to which he has been called. A sense of loyalty to our commitment to Christ, the virtue of fortitude, simple common sense, should all lead us to act intelligently and to avoid occasions that are injurious to the health of the soul and the integrity of the spiritual life.

*Heal our wounds, our strength renew,
On our dryness pour your dew.
Wash the stains of guilt away,
Bend the stubborn heart and will;
Melt the frozen, warm the chill;
Guide the steps that go astray.*

Whenever we find the going difficult, we can count on Mary to teach us how to be strong and keep our heart clean and full of love for her Son.
